Help us save more land and water by donating and volunteering

To conserve forever the lands and waters of the Finger Lakes region, ensuring scenic vistas, local foods, clean waters, and wild places for everyone.

The Finger Lakes Land Trust is a nonprofit conservation organization working across a 12-county region in Central New York. We have worked cooperatively with landowners and partners to permanently protect over 21,000 acres of treasured natural areas and scenic farmlands. The Land Trust owns and manages more than 35 conservation areas that are open to the public for quiet recreation. We hold over 130 easements on protected lands that remain in private ownership. FLLT is supported by members, and you can help us save more land.

With a rich mosaic of brushland, forest, and wetland, the Bishop Nature Preserve can be used as your access point for the Cayuga-Seneca Canal Trail which runs several miles along the historic canal.

NATURAL HISTORY

This low-lying, gently sloping preserve adjoins forested state land, which in turn borders the canal that connects the lakes. Numerous birds and other creatures attracted to this diverse haven find food, water, shelter, and nesting places—all the necessities of life. Seasonal streams traverse the preserve. Native trees such as walnut, black cherry, basswood, hickory, maple, oak, and flowering dogwood are moving in.

HISTORY

In 1993, Bruce Bishop contacted the Land Trust, hoping to protect what had been a labor of love for over 30 years. He and his wife, Helen, had purchased worn-out farmland opposite their home, and planted 30,000 shrubs and conifers. Together, they wanted to ensure that this restored wildlife habitat would be permanently protected.
