The Finger Lakes Land Trust is a nonprofit conservation organization working across a 12-county region in Central New York. We have worked cooperatively with landowners and partners to permanently protect over 27,000 acres of treasured natural areas and scenic farmlands. The Land Trust owns and manages more than 45 conservation areas that are open to the public for quiet recreation. We hold over 150 easements on protected lands that remain in private ownership. FLLT is supported by members, and you can help us save more land.

Acreage: 170 acres

County: Steuben

Trails: 2 miles

The old farm has a fine mature hardwood forest on the west and south slopes, young woods on the east slope, and young trees and small wetlands on the gently sloping eastern portion of the property.

NATURAL HISTORY

The forest provides ideal habitat for the Scarlet Tanager, Black-throated Green Warbler, and Golden-crowned Kinglet. Blue-winged Warblers, Yellow-throats, Yellow Warblers, Song and Field Sparrows thrive in the brushlands. The trails can be wet and muddy at times, so don't forget your boots!

HISTORY

Named after their grandsons, Chris and Mike Parker, the preserve was donated by Gene and Joan Lane in 1993. Like much land in these parts, the Parker Nature Preserve was once a farm. One hundred years ago, the entire property probably was agricultural, but only the more level, eastern portion was still farmed in recent memory. Near Velie Rd., the stone walls of the barns give silent testimony of those days. The farmhouse burned down years ago and is buried now.
