wild places for everyone.

The Finger Lakes Land Trust (FLLT) is a nonprofit conservation organization working across 12 counties in Central New York. Since 1989, we have worked cooperatively with landowners and partners to protect some of the most treasured natural areas and open spaces in these vital watersheds. FLLT manages dozens of conservation areas that are free and open to the public for quiet recreation year-round. We also hold easements on protected lands that remain in private ownership. FLLT is supported by members, and you can help us do more!

STEVENSON FOREST PRESERVE

ENFIELD, NY

MAP & GUIDE

CONSERVED FOREVER
OPEN TO ALL

FLLT.ORG/STEVENSON

 Acreage: 83 acres

 County: Tompkins

 Trails: 1.2 miles

The Stevenson Forest Preserve features a patch of undisturbed woodland that is quickly becoming a rarity, with trees over 150 years old; the forest, vernal ponds and a long-fallow field support diverse wildlife.

NATURAL HISTORY

Patches of sunlight shine through breaks in the tall forest canopy, creating a place to thrive for many ferns and wildflowers such as Indian cucumber-root, Jack-in-the-pulpit, starflower and horse-balm. In early spring, it may be possible to witness the migration of spotted salamanders from their winter hideaways to the shallow vernal pools. Wood frogs also breed there. Take care not to disrupt these fragile populations during mating season.

HISTORY

Twenty-five acres of the preserve had been in the Stevenson family of Enfield since after the Revolutionary War. In 1995, Elizabeth Stevenson Bennett donated the property, eager to ensure its preservation. In 1998 and 1999, additional parcels were incorporated, growing the preserve to 83 acres.
