To conserve forever the lands and waters of the Finger Lakes region, ensuring scenic vistas, local foods, clean water, and wild places for everyone.

The Finger Lakes Land Trust (FLLT) is a nonprofit conservation organization working across 12 counties in Central New York. Since 1989, we have worked cooperatively with landowners and partners to protect some of the most treasured natural areas and open spaces in these vital watersheds. FLLT manages dozens of conservation areas that are free and open to the public for quiet recreation year-round. We also hold easements on protected lands that remain in private ownership. FLLT is supported by members, and you can help us do more!

 Acres: 123 acres

 County: Tompkins

 Trails: 0.1 Miles

Bordering more than 2,000 acres of previously protected open space, the Tapan Mitra Preserve connects to miles of hiking trails.

NATURAL HISTORY

Its wild, wooded hillside and streamside meadows can be seen from Robert Treman State Park as well as nearby State Route 13. Public fishing rights extend along both banks of the Cayuga Inlet through this preserve. The property also protects a short, but key, segment of the popular Finger Lakes Trail, allowing hikers to pass through woods and fields rather than having to negotiate roads in this area.

HISTORY

In 2006, the Land Trust purchased these 123 acres located within the towns of Ithaca and Newfield, just south of the Sweedler Preserve at Lick Brook, and bordering Robert Treman State Park and a Cornell Botanic Gardens natural area. Formerly known as the Cayuga Inlet Conservation Area, the preserve was renamed in 2019 in honor of the late Tapan Mitra, a leading economic theorist at Cornell University.
