The Finger Lakes Land Trust (FLLT) is a nonprofit conservation organization working across 12 counties in Central New York. Since 1989, we have worked cooperatively with landowners and partners to protect some of the most treasured natural areas and open spaces in these vital watersheds. FLLT manages dozens of conservation areas that are free and open to the public for quiet recreation year-round. We also hold easements on protected lands that remain in private ownership. FLLT is supported by members, and you can help us do more!

The Logan Hill Nature Preserve, bordering Catatonk Creek and the village of Candor, offers miles of hiking trails with stunning views of meadows, ponds, forests, and the hillsides of the Southern Tier.

NATURAL HISTORY

Visitors can venture through young and old forests, grassland and meadow habitat, and an elevated wetland that hosts southern species such as tupelo and cucumber magnolia trees. Open fields host nesting Bobolinks; shrubby, successional areas provide a home to Prairie Warblers and Woodcock; and, dozens of man-made vernal pools provide excellent breeding grounds for wood frogs, salamanders, and other amphibians.

HISTORY

Betsy and Dick Darlington bought 300 acres of land atop Logan Hill in 1972, and generously donated 285 acres to the Land Trust in 2015. The remaining 15 acres are privately owned and are protected through a conservation easement. Please stay within the preserve boundaries.
